Kīlauea Point National Wildlife Refuge Will be closed in observance of the Labor Day holiday on Saturday, September 3, 2016

Kīlauea, HI – The Kīlauea Point National Wildlife Refuge will be closed in observance of the Labor Day holiday on Saturday, September 3, 2016 and will re-open to the public on Tuesday, September 6, 2016.

The Kīlauea Point National Wildlife Refuge was established to preserve and enhance migratory bird nesting colonies, federally listed species, and native coastal strand, riparian, and aquatic biological diversity, as well as to support incidental fish and wildlife-oriented recreation. The refuge is home to some of the largest populations of nesting seabirds in the main Hawaiian Islands and the historic Daniel K. Inouye Kīlauea Point Lighthouse. In 1988, the refuge was expanded to include Nihokū and Mōkōlea Point.

*The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service works with others to conserve, protect, and enhance fish, wildlife, plants, and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people.
